

Item 1 – Introduction

Angeles Investment Advisors, LLC (“Angeles”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment advisor. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 – Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer discretionary advice to retail investors based on the individual needs of that investor. Through discussions in which we establish goals and objectives based on the investor’s circumstances, Angeles develops a client’s investment policy and creates and manages a portfolio based on that policy. The following is part of our standard offering:

Monitoring	We regularly monitor client holdings via monthly and quarterly performance updates and conduct manager reviews at least annually, where we discuss any changes in personnel, investment philosophy, holdings, etc.
Investment Authority	Our clients typically grant us ongoing discretionary authority to manage their accounts, which means that we can buy and sell investments on behalf of our clients without seeking permission on a trade by trade basis. With respect to non-discretionary relationships, a client may decline to invest in a recommendation.
Limited Investment Offerings	We have no restrictions on the products or types of investments or services offered.
Account Minimums and Other Requirements	We generally accept clients with a minimum account size of $25 million but may waive that minimum. Assets of family members are aggregated for purposes of meeting this minimum.

Additional Information about Angeles’ services is available on Part 2 of Form ADV, which can be requested at <https://www.angelesinvestments.com> by clicking the link at the bottom left-hand corner of the page or on the SEC’s website at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/110213>.

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

Angeles charges clients an investment management fee that is based on the value of each client’s assets under management. Fees are negotiable and range between 0.10% and 1.0% annually, depending on the size and complexity of each account. Fees are generally charged quarterly in advance, based on account values at the start of each quarter. Our firm’s fees generally increase as client accounts grow, so we have an incentive to encourage our clients to increase the amount of assets in the accounts.

In addition to Angeles’ investment management fee, clients bear transaction fees when we buy or sell investments. Clients also pay fees to the broker-dealer or bank that maintains each account (called “custody” fees). Our firm often selects and purchases mutual funds and exchange traded funds for a portion of clients’ portfolios. Such investment vehicles charge their own management, transaction, and administrative fees and expenses, and those fees and expenses are indirectly borne by the investors in those vehicles, including Angeles' clients.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For additional information, see our ADV Part 2A Brochure, Item 5 available here: <https://www.angelesinvestments.com>

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide to you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- We manage accounts for multiple clients, and we allocate our time based on each client's needs. Our firm earns more as we expand our client base and grow our assets under management, and we seek to balance our staffing with the individualized needs of each client.
- We may recommend an allocation of assets to the Angeles proprietary commingled funds. This allocation creates a conflict because Angeles may allocate client assets to these funds over similar investments.

For additional information about our conflicts, please see Item 5 of the Form ADV Part 2A brochure available here: <https://www.angelesinvestments.com>

How might your conflicts of interest affect me and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Angeles' financial professionals receive a salary and may receive a discretionary bonus. Compensation is set with the intention of attracting and retaining highly qualified professionals. Compensation is based on a variety of factors, including the number, value, and complexity of accounts under management, the performance of those accounts, and client satisfaction and retention.

Item 4 – Disciplinary History

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. A free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals is available at Investor.gov/CRS.
