

On behalf of all of us at Angeles, we hope you and your families are safe and well during this difficult time.

As a part of our core values, we feel strongly that it is important to support workers on the front line and those in need. In recognition of the urgent need for assistance in this crisis, Angeles made donations to the following organizations working to alleviate the suffering we see across our communities.

Los Angeles Food Bank

Working hard to meet the needs of those impacted by the Coronavirus, as well as individuals who typically need their assistance.

The Mayor's Fund of Los Angeles – LA Emergency COVID-19 Crisis Fund

Supporting critical needs as they arise in LA – such as childcare and meals for the neediest, relief and counseling for frontline healthcare workers, critical healthcare equipment, and services for our homeless population.

UCLA Health

Striving every day to be a model that redefines the standard of excellence in health care. Gifts to this fund, among other services, will enable immediate response to specific needs resulting from COVID-19 such as support for ventilators which is one of their highest priority needs in response to the pandemic.

No Kid Hungry

A national organization, No Kid Hungry, is helping feed children who no longer have school meals due to the Coronavirus crisis.

City Meals

Servicing homebound elderly New Yorkers since 1981, helping prepare over 300,000 emergency meals to respond to the Coronavirus.

We thank you for your continued partnership that enables us to be able to make these contributions to those most in need.
