

Angeles Wealth Becomes First Tenant of The Rolex Building, Rolex's New U.S. Headquarters in New York City

Opening in the fall of 2026 and designed by acclaimed architect Sir David Chipperfield, the tower aims to be New York's most sustainable new-build, defined by sophistication and sustainability

New York – October 31, 2025 — Angeles Wealth Management, ("Angeles Wealth"), a national wealth management firm serving generationally wealthy families, today announced plans to become the first tenant of The Rolex Building, the brand's forthcoming U.S. headquarters at 665 Fifth Avenue in Midtown Manhattan. Opening in 2026, the development is set to become New York's most exclusive office address, distinguished by world-class sustainability features and architectural prestige.

Rolex is recognized worldwide for its expertise and the quality of its products – timeless symbols of excellence, elegance and prestige. Angeles Wealth aspires to bring that same ethos to its work with ultra-high-net-worth (UHNW) families, delivering bespoke wealth advice and institutional-quality investment solutions designed to safeguard wealth and extend legacies across generations.

Angeles Wealth shares Rolex's commitment to high social, ethical and environmental standards. The Rolex Building is designed to LEED Platinum standards with the ambition of being one of New York's most environmentally sustainable new-build towers. Likewise, Angeles Wealth works to help families turn wealth into legacy through philanthropy and generational stewardship, helping to ensure its advice creates impact beyond financial returns – an approach that reflects the ethos embodied by The Rolex Building.

"We are honored to be the first tenant of The Rolex Building, a brand that defines prestige and craftsmanship. Rolex perfects timepieces to endure; and we strive to help families preserve legacies that do the same," said Jonathan Foster, President and CEO of Angeles Wealth. "We believe the environment Rolex has created at 665 Fifth Avenue will allow us to deliver an even more elevated, premium experience for our clients—one that hopefully matches the elegance of the building itself."

Angeles Wealth will transition its New York office from the Seagram Building at 375 Park Avenue to The Rolex Building in 2026. The Pritzker Prize-winning architect Sir David Chipperfield designed the architectural icon to serve as Rolex's U.S. headquarters, with a limited number of office floors available for select tenants.

The transaction was arranged by Eric Reimer of Byrnam Wood, representing Angeles Wealth, and Jon Fales, Bryan Boisi, Lauren Hale and Mark Boisi of Cushman & Wakefield representing Rolex.
