

October 2025: GLOBAL MARKET INDEX PERFORMANCE

Global equity and bond returns delivered positive results in October. The S&P 500 returned 2.3%, the MSCI ACWI IMI increased 2.1%, and developed non-U.S. equities (MSCI EAFE) increased 1.2%. In the U.S., value stocks underperformed growth, while large cap outperformed small cap. The Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index returned 0.6% and U.S. high yield bonds returned 0.2% for the month. U.S. CPI rose, bringing the year-over-year inflation to 3.0% as of September 2025.

The U.S. economy continued to show resilience, with real GDP growth at 3.8% YOY through second quarter and consumer spending remaining steady despite signs of a cooling labor market and lingering inflation pressures. Markets rallied as investors welcomed lower interest rates, strong corporate earnings, and continued enthusiasm around technology and Al-driven companies. Inflation still continues to remain higher than the Federal Reserve's 2% target, which will factor into future rate cuts. The US dollar strengthened but YOY is down ~4%.
